SWEET SIXTEEN

It was a lively group of merry makers that gathered Saturday night in the pretty home of Miss Helen Ballenger of 7927 Green St to help celebrate her 16th anniversary Strips of orange and black crepe paper prettily woven were the decorations that were strung across the rooms and the orange shaded lights cast a beautiful soft radiance which resembled a pretty sunset A huge bouquet of yellow roses graced the lavishly spread table When all had feasted, the rooms were relieved of their furniture and before many minutes had elapsed everyone was tripping off the light fantastic to the strains of the gay music Many lovely gifts were presented to Miss Ballenger and upon departure all the guests reported a fine time

UNCURBED CHILDREN

Last Thursday evening at about 5 30 o'clock our colored laundress, who is a young woman of reserved and excellent disposition and a good woman, left our home after her work to take the nearest available street car line She walked down Harvard Ave At the intersection of 74th St. she was obliged to pass a group of children, some of them grown boys, who were playing about the street Several of these children commenced to call her various names to their discredit and some of the children threw rocks at the woman Two of the missiles struck her and caused her to suffer pain. She got away as quickly as possible and caught her car home

This incident happened in a neighborhood supposed to be extraordinarily refined Unfortunately many of the children in that section use the streets for their playgrounds and many of them do not act in a manner which would indicate that the parents are giving due attention in all cases to the supervision and bringing up of their offspring along lines that would tend to make them future good citizens They are evidently permitting race feeling to grow among the children.

ZY-MODE-ETTES

Zy Mode-Ettes held a stag on Saturday, October 4th, at Carrier's, 7814 Ada St The stag was attended by seven soldiers and their lieutenant, a marine, two sailors, two letter carriers and one civilian

One poor unfortunate soldier, president of the Zy-Mode-Ettes, lost her leather puttee (legging) and up to the present time has not heard from the finder Anyone hearing of the lost puttee, kindly notify the Zy-Mode-Ettes

At 10 00 P M the boys arrived and on time regardless of the awful storm The Zy-Mode-Ettes designed a stunning little Lover's Lane which at 10 05 was occupied to full capacity

The following were present at the midnight supper Misses Bernadette Phee, Helen Meyers, Mary O'Hara, Alice Patch, Alice Carrier, Billy Warner, Florence Lowery, Margaret Keating, Marie Flavin, Catherine Manning, Blanche Weber, Agnes Lowell, Lea Picard and Marie Carrier, Messrs. Joe McDonald, Gene Foley, Tom McCarthy, Charles Carrier, Jack Carrier, Jerry McCarthy, Jack Mullaney, Jack Cotter, Matt Lacey, Harry Evans, Tom Flatley, John Roonin, Bill Kerr, Andrew Niebauer, Harry Hilbrick, Nick Streit and Walter Houston.

All present had such a "spiffy" time that the Zy-Mode-Ettes are now planning on another party to be held very soon

Girls were looking for the president of the Zy-Mode-Ettes last Saturday night and found her in Marie's room, occupying two beds. Either the beds were small or Bernie is getting a little stout

ENGLEWOOD DANCING ACADEMY

10 A. M. to 10 P. M. DAILY

Just returned from New York with all the new and most up-to-date Dances. Children's classes now forming. Classical, Interpretative, Aesthetic Toe Dancing.

TECHNIQUE

The average student has little conception of the importance of the study of technique, the foundation of all dancing, no matter how simple.

The prevailing idea among teachers seems to be that technique is a subject too difficult for use in children's or beginners' classes, when, in reality, technique is the veritable "A, B, C" of dancing.

Technique teaches bodily control, rhythm in music, mental quickness, agility, grace (either soft or brilliant), muscular strength; and even respiratory control Correct toe dancing, the height of all artistic achievement, is only a natural result of the study of technical exercises, each one of which has its special function toward the accomplishment of toe dancing, which is merely the result of correct technical study.

A great advantage in studying and teaching technique lies in the fact that it is something permanent, not constantly changing with the whim of each season. The fundamental bar exercises—port-de bras, etc—once mastered, will always be of use The fundamentals of ballet technique always have and always will be practically the same

A SOLDIER'S TRIBUTE TO HIS MOTHER

"Just a year ago today when I was headed for the shores of Brest, France, on the gigantic transport U. S. S. Siboney, my buddie 'Went West,'" quotes one of Auburn Park's heroes. "Stricken suddenly with the Flu, and ill but three days, this robust youth, who had been the 'picture of health,' lie on a narrow white bed in the overcrowded ship hospital. His rosy red complexion had turned to an ashy whiteness and his eyes stared at me with a death stare as I peeped through a port hole of the ship and tried to talk to him while the guard had his back turned.

"His lips were parched with fever and I could hear him calling faintly for 'Mother.' 'Mother, mother,' he softly and slowly cried, but no one in the hospital seemed to hear him. Every one of the attendants were too busy. That night he died. If only his dear mother were near to whisper a word of kindness in his ear or to place her soft hand on his feverish brow, how much happier his death would have been.

"M-o-t-h-e-r, what a wonderful word it is and oh, what it means to a dying soldier, God only knows. As long as I live I shall never forget the look of agony on that soldier's face and how badly I felt when I heard him cry 'm-o-t-h-e-r.'

Hung on the wall of a little Y. M. C. A. hut in France was a prettily framed verse that was titled 'Mother' and it is in memory of my beloved pal I ask the editor of this paper to kindly publish it. It is by Baroness Von Hutton and runs as follows:

Mother

"It is a wonderful thing,
A mother;
Other folks can love you,
But only your mother understands.

"She works for you,
Looks after you,
Loves you, forgives you,
Anything you may do;
And then the only thing bad she ever does to you
Is to die and leave you."

Cattalo a Hybrid.

The cattalo is an animal one parent of which is the buffalo and the other the cow. The hybrids have been raised in considerable numbers on a cattle ranch in the Panhandle of Texas.

"Mother Shipton" Hoax.

Mother Shipton was reputed an English prophetess of the time of Henry VIII. She was first heard from in 1641, when "The Prophecie of Mother Shipton" was published anonymously in London. In 1862 Charles Hindley reprinted a life of Mother Shipton, originally published by Richard Heady (London, 1684). He added some doggerel of his own and wound up with the prophecy that the world would come to an end in 1881. In 1873 Mr Hindley acknowledged that the verses were a hoax.

Antiquity of the Emerald.

The emerald has been known since early times both in Europe and in certain parts of the Orient, where its attractive color and rarity have endowed it with the highest rank. Its name may be traced back to an old word which appeared in Greek as smaragdos, mentioned in Greek by Theoprastus 300 B. C.

Silly Old Superstitions.

In the highlands of Scotland it is taken as a terribly unlucky sign if a dog should run between the bridal pair on their wedding day, and brides still tell the bees of their wedding and decorate the hives for the occasion, says the Philadelphia North American. In parts of England and Scotland there exists an ancient custom for which no one seems to know the reason, by which part of the wedding cake is broken over the head of the bride and the guests all scramble for a piece.

THE WHOLE FAMILY praises "Reiner's Christopher Coal." The cook says: "It is good to bake with." Johnny says: "I do NOT have to carry out SO MANY ashes." Father says: "DINNER is always READY ON TIME." Mother says: "IT'S CLEAN COAL." We say, "It is the BEST COAL MINED." Try it today. Only $7.00 per ton. Good for any stove in the house. Reiner Coal Company, 59th & Wood Sts. Prospect 7558.

The Atlantic—I may be only 20 hours wide, but I'm just as deep as ever.—New York Sun.

Seek Perfection.

Aim at perfection in everything, though in most things it is unattainable; however, they who aim at it and persevere will come much nearer to it than those whose laziness and despondency make them give it up as unattainable.—Chesterfield.

Male and Female Swimmers.

Swimming comes easier to women than men because the specific gravity of their bodies is less than those of men. The proportion of flesh is greater in the body of a woman than in that of a man and the proportion of bone is less. Therefore the woman is lighter in proportion to her size and floats more readily. This gives her an advantage as a swimmer.

Better Than Medicine.

Remember that medicine is, for most part, nothing but the substitute of exercise and right thinking. And it does not take a great deal of either right thinking or fresh air to enable you to throw off any ordinary symptom of illness. All that is necessary is for you to hold in your mind the thought that you are both healthy and cheerful.

Production of Scent.

No substance that refuses to dissolve in water has an odor. It is the actual substance itself, floating in particles in the air, as in the case of light and sound. The damper a thing is the more powerful the odor it gives off. A pleasant proof of the fact can be had by walking in a garden after rain. It is the vapor of a liquid that smells and not the liquid in the mass itself.

About the Diamond.

The diamond is the hardest stone known. Its name (French, diamant) is derived from the Greek adamas—untamable. The word was probably attached to the stone because it conveyed the idea of invincible hardness. No acid will scar it; no solvent will dissolve it. Ages may pass without dimming the luster of its adamantine face.

Famous Caves Change Owners.

The Tillywhim caves and the Great Globe at Swanage were offered by auction at Bournemouth, England, but failed to find a purchaser, although the Great Globe and Dorleston Head Castle were knocked down for $10,000. The Durleston Park estate, on which these landmarks are situated, had previously been offered as a whole, but had failed to find a purchaser.

Suffer for Sins of Others.

"There is no sort of wrong deed of which a man can bear the punishment alone; you can't isolate yourself, and say that the evil which is in you shall not spread," says George Eliot in Adam Bede. It is only too true that we cannot bear punishment alone. And usually our mistakes entail worse suffering on those who love us than they do on ourselves. Just as on the other hand our successes and rewards bring more joy to our dear ones than to ourselves. "No man liveth to himself alone."

Trees of Sorrow.

The Persian "Trees of Sorrow" are so called because they bloom only at night. When the first star appears in the sky the first flower opens and as the evening advances more and more buds burst into bloom until the lovely tree appears to be one vast flower. It has a delicate fragrance not unlike the scent of the evening primrose. As the dawn approaches the flowers begin to fade until by sunrise not a bloom is to be seen.

AUBURN PARK ADVENTURER WORKS AT DAIRY SHOW

In the rear of the gigantic amphitheater in a little office on the second floor I applied for a position as door man for the Dairy Show. I was met by Mr. Greenbaugh, assistant manager of the show. In a very pleasant tone of voice he asked me what I wanted. I told him and was hired. Just then the door of the office was quickly flung open and a short, medium built man with a rugged face, who wore a dark green suit and one of the latest style green caps sailed through. To look at him you would think he was hard boiled but he was quite the contrary. At any rate he was to be my boss and the polite Mr. Greenbaugh lost no time in turning me over to him.

He said, "You understand the hours are from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. and some nights 12 or later."

I nodded my head which meant I understood. In fact one would need to have a good "understanding" to survive them hours. Being crazy about work I put up no argument.

I was assigned to my post, which was the middle exit of the spacious amphitheater. I was supposed to stand guard and was given strict orders not to let any kids or "rough necks" in. I was to let house employees in and out at all times though.

At four o'clock in the afternoon about 100 children shabbily dressed, girls, some of them with their hair knotted, others hanging down, and wearing patched and badly torn dresses, while the boys were equally as shabby, stormed the doors when I allowed an employee to pass through. In their hands were milk bottles, beer pails or former beer pails and jugs, and mugs of all sizes and descriptions. They yelled out, "Hey, mister, are they milkin' yet?" "Let's in, will ya mister?" Of course I felt bad for them but what could I do? They had been advised that the free supply of milk that was given away each day through the courtesy of the exhibitors and management was exhausted but still they persisted. With the aid of a kindly policeman stationed nearby we quietly ordered them away.

All during the day I was besieged with questions and for a while I was wondering whether I had been hired as information bureau or doorman.

Here are some of them:

1. "Where is the Dairy Lunch?"
2. "Can I go out and come back again?"
3. "How long is the show here?"
4. "How can I get to the Congress Hotel?"
5. "What is the best road to travel on to get to Kalamazoo and when can I get a train for there?"
6. "Where is the elevated road?"
7. "Are they milkin' yet?"
8. "Could you tell me what is the best show in town," cried an out-of-town visitor.
9. "I want you to see what is playing at some movie theatre near the Chateau," asked a kindly lady who was accompanied by an out-of-town visitor. I told her of a nearby theatre and that Charlie Chaplin was featured.

"But," the out-of-town lady wailed, "my husband just hates him. I adore him though," and she laughed heartily showing all her missing teeth. I finally made myself press agent for Marguerite Clark and told them I had seen her in "A Widow By Proxy" and it was great and told them the theatre where she could be seen. Anything to hurry them along as I could see, behind them, a line of troubled faces ready to ask questions.

10. A big fat man of about 50 years came up to me in a zig-zaggy fashion and said: "Shay, (hic) can you tell me (hic) jush where I can find the (hic) aminals (animals)?" I said to myself if you had a couple more under your belt, 'tis snakes you would be seein', so you would.

"Say," said a pretty little girl who looked like one of the baby vamps from "Take It From Me," "Can you tell me where a chop suey joint is?"

"Gee, Kid," said a saucy little flirt, "don't look at me that way. Your big blue lamps seem to say 'kiss me.' Honey have you got a coupla passes or where can I get some?"

She must have been reading about the brown and blue-eyed vamps in the Evening American and wanted to see if I would fall. But you can rest assured I did not reflect discredit on my blue-eyed brothers. Says I to me self, says I, says I, I like a kiss I must fight for.

"Where are the telephone booths?"

"Where can I send this telegram?"

And so on and so forth. Some of the questions were reasonable and more very foolish. But next time I apply for a job as doorman I will ask them to build a little fence around me labeled "I-N-F-O-R-M-A-T-I-O-N."

Rubber Easy to Cultivate.

After four or five years of semi-cultivation a rubber plantation requires practically no care, except to see from time to time that other trees which may have gotten a start are cut out. The yield of rubber gum begins about the seventh year under favorable conditions, and continues thereafter indefinitely.

Flamingo Nearing Extinction.

The flamingo's happy hunting ground used to be throughout Florida and many lovely members of its family could be met with in the other hot countries. Very few of them are left now, however, anywhere in this country and many bird lovers predict that in a few years more they will have been killed off until they will be extinct.

Unique London Club.

Of the many clubs in London, perhaps the newest and most exclusive is the Thirteen Club, which meets at the thirteenth hour of the thirteenth day of every month. It owes its inception to a lunch held to celebrate the armistice during the world war, at which it was found that 13 were sitting down. The membership is restricted to 13, and at a recent lunch every member made it a point to upset the salt.

WOMAN WITH IMMACULATE HOME WHO CAN'T AFFORD TO BE IDLE

While washing the front door of her home last Saturday morning Mrs. M. T. Collins of 7927 Green St. accidently run a needle, which had been placed in the woodwork of the door, in her right arm. Yesterday she was removed to the hospital where an x-ray was taken which located the needle but when operated on no trace of it could be found, which clearly explains how mysteriously a needle works in the flesh. Mrs. Collins when found at her home today modestly related how she stood the pain of the cutting of four gashes in her arm without the aid of an anaesthetic. Her home was immaculately clean and this very busy little woman when asked what she would do now quickly raised her left arm. I asked her why she was always so busy and she came right back at me in a pleasant tone, "Well, I just can't afford to be idle."

Head Work.

Two heads are certainly better than one for a barrel.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Indian Gamesters.

Although the natives of India do not operate on the stock market, they have adopted a unique form of gambling for which the cotton market reports are responsible. Every day five quotations are cabled from New York announcing the cotton situation. The natives looked upon this as a direct invitation to them to establish a simple but none the less absorbing form of gambling. The gambling consists simply in guessing what the five figures will amount to, and the man getting nearest to the right amount takes the stakes.
